

Cross Curriculum Priorities

General Capabilities

LANGUAGE	LITERATURE	LITERACY
Understand that languages have different written and visual communication systems, different oral traditions and different ways of constructing meaning [ACELA 1475] RV W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> learning that a word or sign can carry different weight in different cultural contexts, for example that particular respect is due to some people and creatures and that stories can be passed on to teach us how to live appropriately 	Discuss texts in which characters, events and settings are portrayed in different ways, and speculate on the authors' reasons [ACELT 1594] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> reading texts in which Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children/young people are the central characters/protagonists and making links to students' own lives, noting similarities exploring the ways that the same story can be told in many cultures, identifying variations in the storyline and in music (for example 'The Ramayana' story which is told to children in India, Indonesia, Thailand, Cambodia, Burma, Laos, Tibet and Malaysia) 	Identify the point of view in a text and suggest alternative points of view [ACELY 1675] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> discussing how a text presents the point of view of the main character, and speculating on what other characters might think or feel recognising that there is more than one way of looking at the same event and that stories seen through the eyes of one character privileges some aspects of the story over others speculating about what other characters might think or feel and retelling the story from other perspectives (for example 'Cinderella' from the view of the 'Ugly Sisters')
Understand that successful cooperation with others depends on shared use of social conventions, including turn-taking patterns, and forms of address that vary according to the degree of formality in social situations [ACELA 1476] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> identifying roles and collaborative patterns in students' own groups and pair work (for example initiating a topic, changing a topic through negotiation, affirming other speakers and building on their comments, asking relevant questions, providing useful feedback, prompting and checking individual and group understanding) 	Draw connections between personal experiences and the worlds of texts, and share responses with others [ACELT 1596] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> discussing relevant prior knowledge and past experiences to make meaningful connections to the people, places, events, issues and ideas in the text exploring texts that highlight issues and problems in making moral decisions and discussing these with others drawing on literature from Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander or Asian cultures, to explore commonalities of experience and ideas as well as recognising difference in lifestyle and world view 	Listen to and contribute to conversations and discussions to share information and ideas and negotiate in collaborative situations [ACELY 1676] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> participating in collaborative discussions, building on and connecting ideas and opinions expressed by others, and checking students' own understanding against group views
Examine how evaluative language can be varied to be more or less forceful [ACELA 1477] RV W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> exploring how modal verbs, for example 'must', 'might', or 'could' indicate degrees of certainty, command or obligation distinguishing how choice of adverbs, nouns and verbs present different evaluations of characters in texts 	Develop criteria for establishing personal preferences for literature [ACELT 1598] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> building a conscious understanding of preference regarding topics and genres of personal interest (for example humorous short stories, school and family stories, mysteries, fantasy and quest, series books) selecting and discussing favourite texts and explaining their reasons for assigning greater or lesser merit to particular texts or types of texts 	Use interaction skills, including active listening behaviours and communicate in a clear, coherent manner using a variety of everyday and learned vocabulary and appropriate tone, pace, pitch and volume [ACELY 1792] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> participating in pair, group and class speaking and listening situations, including informal conversations, class discussions and presentations listening actively including listening for specific information, recognising the value of others' contributions and responding through comments, recoups and summaries of information learning the specific speaking or listening skills of different group roles, for example group leader, note taker and reporter experimenting with voice effects in formal presentations such as tone, volume and pace
Understand how different types of texts vary in use of language choices, depending on their function and purpose, for example tense, mood, and types of sentences [ACELA 1478] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> becoming familiar with typical structural stages and language features of various types of text, for example narratives, procedures, reports, reviews and expositions L	Discuss how language is used to describe the settings in texts, and explore how the settings shape the events and influence the mood of the narrative [ACELT 1599] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> identifying and discussing the use of descriptive adjectives ('in the middle of a vast, bare plain') to establish setting and atmosphere ('the castle loomed dark and forbidding') and to draw readers into events that follow discussing the language used to describe the traits of characters in stories, their actions and motivations: 'Claire was so lonely, she desperately wanted a pet and she was afraid she would do anything, just anything, to have one to care for' 	Plan and deliver short presentations, providing some key details in logical sequence [ACELY 1677] W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> drawing on relevant research into a topic to prepare an oral or multimodal presentation, using devices such as storyboards to plan the sequence of ideas and information
Understand that paragraphs are a key organisational feature of written texts [ACELA 1479] RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> noticing how longer texts are organised into paragraphs, each beginning with a topic sentence/paragraph opener which predicts how the paragraph will develop and is then elaborated in various ways 	Discuss the nature and effects of some language devices used to enhance meaning and shape the reader's reaction, including rhythm and onomatopoeia in poetry and prose [ACELT 1600] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> identifying the effect of imagery in texts, for example the use of imagery related to nature in haiku poems exploring how rhythm, onomatopoeia and alliteration give momentum to poetry and prose read aloud, and enhance enjoyment 	Identify the audience and purpose of imaginative, informative and persuasive texts [ACELY 1678] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> identifying the author's point of view on a topic and key words and images that seem intended to persuade listeners, viewers or readers to agree with the view presented
Know that word contractions are a feature of informal language and that apostrophes of contraction are used to signal missing letters [ACELA 1480] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> recognising both grammatically accurate and inaccurate usage of the apostrophe in everyday texts such as signs in the community and newspaper advertisements RV L S	Create imaginative texts based on characters, settings and events from students' own and other cultures using visual features, for example perspective, distance and angle [ACELT 1601] L S RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> drawing on literary texts read, viewed and listened to for inspiration and ideas, appropriating language to create mood and characterisation innovating on texts read, viewed and listened to by changing the point of view, revising an ending or creating a sequel 	Read an increasing range of different types of texts by combining contextual, semantic, grammatical and phonic knowledge, using text processing strategies, for example monitoring, predicting, confirming, rereading, reading on and self-correcting [ACELY 1679] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> combining different types of knowledge (for example world knowledge, vocabulary, grammar, phonics) to make decisions about unknown words, reading on, reviewing and summarising meaning analysing the way illustrations help to construct meaning and interpreting different types of illustrations and graphics reading text types from a student's culture to enhance confidence in building reading strategies reading aloud with fluency and intonation reading a wider range of texts, including chapter books and informative texts, for pleasure
Identify the features of online texts that enhance navigation [ACELA 1790] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> becoming familiar with the typical features of online texts, for example navigation bars and buttons, hyperlinks and sitemarks 	Create texts that adapt language features and patterns encountered in literary texts, for example characterisation, rhyme, rhythm, mood, music, sound effects and dialogue [ACELT 1791] L S RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> creating visual and multimodal texts based on Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander or Asian literature, applying one or more visual elements to convey the intent of the original text creating multimodal texts that combine visual images, sound effects, music and voice overs to convey settings and events in a fantasy world 	Use comprehension strategies to build literal and inferred meaning and begin to evaluate texts by drawing on a growing knowledge of context, text structures and language features [ACELY 1680] L S W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> making connections between the text and students' own experience and other texts making connections between information in print and images making predictions and asking and answering questions about the text drawing on knowledge of the topic, subject-specific vocabulary and experience of texts on the same topic using text features and search tools to locate information in written and digital texts efficiently determining important ideas, events or details in texts commenting on things learned or questions raised by reading, referring explicitly to the text for verification making considered inferences taking into account topic knowledge or a character's likely actions and feelings
Understand that a clause is a unit of meaning, usually containing a subject and a verb and that these need to be in agreement [ACELA 1481] L S RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> knowing that a clause is basically a group of words that contains a verb knowing that, in terms of meaning, a basic clause represents: what is happening, who or what is participating, and the surrounding circumstances 	 <h2 style="text-align: center;">Year 3 Achievement Standard</h2> Receptive modes (listening, reading and viewing) By the end of Year 3, students understand how content can be organised using different text structures depending on the purpose of the text. They understand how language features, images and vocabulary choices are used for different effects. They read texts that contain varied sentence structures, a range of punctuation conventions, and images that provide additional information. They identify literal and implied meaning connecting ideas in different parts of a text. They select information, ideas and events in texts that relate to their own lives and to other texts. They listen to others' views and respond appropriately. Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating) Students understand how language features are used to link and sequence ideas. They understand how language can be used to express feelings and opinions on topics. Their texts include writing and images to express and develop in some detail experiences, events, information, ideas and characters. Students create a range of texts for familiar and unfamiliar audiences. They contribute actively to class and group discussions, asking questions, providing useful feedback and making presentations. They demonstrate understanding of grammar and choose vocabulary and punctuation appropriate to the purpose and context of their writing. They use knowledge of sounds and high frequency words to spell words accurately, checking their work for meaning. They write using joined letters that are accurately formed and consistent in size.
Understand that verbs represent different processes (doing, thinking, saying, and relating) and that these processes are anchored in time through tense [ACELA 1482] L S RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> identifying different types of verbs and the way they add meaning to a sentence exploring action and saying verbs in narrative texts to show how they give information about what characters do and say exploring the use of sensing verbs and how they allow readers to know what characters think and feel exploring the use of relating verbs in constructing definitions and descriptions
Identify the effect on audiences of techniques, for example shot size, vertical camera angle and layout in picture books, advertisements and film segments [ACELA 1483] S RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> noting how the relationship between characters can be depicted in illustrations through: the positioning of the characters (for example facing each other or facing away from each other); the distance between them; the relative size; one character looking up (or down) at the other (power relationships); facial expressions and body gesture
Learn extended and technical vocabulary and ways of expressing opinion including modal verbs and adverbs [ACELA 1484] RV W <ul style="list-style-type: none"> exploring examples of language which demonstrate a range of feelings and positions, and building a vocabulary to express judgments about characters or events, acknowledging that language and judgments might differ depending on the cultural context
Understand how to use sound-letter relationships and knowledge of spelling rules, compound words, prefixes, suffixes, morphemes and less common letter combinations, for example 'tion' [ACELA 1485] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> using spelling strategies such as: phonological knowledge (for example diphthongs and other ambiguous vowel sounds in more complex words); three-letter clusters (for example 'thr', 'str', 'squ'); visual knowledge (for example more complex single syllable homophones such as 'break/brake', 'ste/steight'); morphemic knowledge (for example inflectional endings in single syllable words, plural and past tense); generalisations (for example to make a word plural when it ends in 's', 'sh', 'ch', or 'z' add 'es')
Recognise high frequency sight words [ACELA 1486] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> becoming familiar with most high-frequency sight words 	Plan, draft and publish imaginative, informative and persuasive texts demonstrating increasing control over text structures and language features and selecting print and multimodal elements appropriate to the audience and purpose [ACELY 1682] RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> using print and digital resources to gather information about a topic selecting appropriate text structure for a writing purpose and sequencing content for clarity and audience impact using appropriate simple, compound and complex sentences to express and combine ideas using vocabulary, including technical vocabulary, relevant to the text type and purpose, and appropriate sentence structures to express and combine ideas 	Reread and edit texts for meaning, appropriate structure, grammatical choices and punctuation [ACELY 1683] RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> using glossaries, print and digital dictionaries and spell check to edit spelling, realising that spell check accuracy depends on understanding the word function, for example there/their; rain/reign
Write using joined letters that are clearly formed and consistent in size [ACELY 1684] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> practising how to join letters to construct a fluent handwriting style 	Use software including word processing programs with growing speed and efficiency to construct and edit texts featuring visual, print and audio elements [ACELY 1685] RV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> using features of relevant technologies to plan, sequence, compose and edit multimodal texts 	Filter to the mode of writing Filter to the mode of Reading and Viewing Filter to the mode of Listening and Speaking
